A SHOUT OUT TO DON AT RIGGIO'S SUNOCO

No one likes to get a flat tire, especially late at night when you now have to drive @35 miles on your little donut, going no more than 50 mph.

Worrying about getting up Sunday morning and having to deal with this tire reminded me of the good service I've always gotten at Riggio's.

The friendly voice on the other end of the line said bring the car on over. Don took the tire, found the tiny hole, plugged it, put it back on my car, checked all of my tires, and charged me a mere $15.

I was thrilled. Not only did he chat reassuringly with me about the mechanics of plugging a tire, but told me stories about other tire plugging mishaps he'd seen. (Did you know a chicken bone could puncture a tire?)

Many thanks to Don for a not only a happy ending to my flat tire story, but reminding me that having a place in town that you can trust in an emergency is something to be grateful for.
