Donor and Financial Transparency

Last Updated June 25, 2020

The Bedford Citizen is committed to transparency in every aspect of funding our organization.

Accepting financial support does not mean we endorse donors or their products, services or opinions.

We accept gifts, grants and sponsorships from individuals, organizations and foundations to help with our general operations, coverage of specific topics, and special projects. As a 501(c)(3) nonprofit that operates as a public trust, we do not pay certain taxes. We may receive funds from standard government programs offered to nonprofits or similar businesses.

Our news judgments are made independently – not based on or influenced by donors. We do not give supporters the rights to assign, review or edit content.

We will make public all donors who give $5000 or more per year. As a news nonprofit, we will avoid accepting charitable donations from anonymous sources, and we will not accept donations from government entities, political parties or candidates actively seeking statewide or national public office. While we will accept donations from local elected officials, we will maintain our editorial independence. We will not accept donations from sources who, deemed by our board of directors, present a conflict of interest with our work or compromise our independence.
